NOTES AND PRECIS.

D.No.8238 S.N.(1).

(1)

(*The Inspector splits up these scholarships with a view to benefit more students than three)

Under Rule 55(k) of the Grant-in-Aid Code for Indian Schools, the Inspector can sanction, at a time only 3 scholarships of the value of Rs.25/- each (or 6* of Rs.12½ each) for the Junior B.A. Class and the same number of scholarships for the Senior B.A.class. This rule appears to have been based on the normal duration of the ordinary B.A.course which lasts for 2 years. Our Code as it stands does not provide for a scholarship for the 'B.A. Honours Course' which is a higher order than the ordinary B.A.course and which lasts for three years.

(2) The 3 scholarships sanctioned last year for the junior B.A. class will now have to be continued in the senior B.A. class, and there is no provision in the Code for an extra scholarship for a B.A. Honours student who appears to be in the third year of his course. The amendment proposed by the Inspector will meet the case.

(3) Now please see the opening note printed on page 1 of the Code. All amendments to the Code involving a fundamental departure from the general principles on which the Code has been constructed will require the sanction of the Government of India. The award of scholarship to a deserving student is one of the principles recognised by the Code; and the discontinuance and not the continuance of such a scholarship will be against the principles of the Code. The amendment can therefore be sanctioned by the Hon'ble the Resident.

Article 48 of the Code of Regulation for European Schools and Rule 52 of the Grant-in-Aid Code for Indian Schools may be amended as proposed by the Inspector of Schools. The word 'Section' in the proposed amendment to Article 48 of the Code for European Schools may be altered to 'chapter' when amending rule 52 of the Code for Indian Schools on the same lines. The amendment does not involve a fundamental departure from the general principles on which the two codes have been constructed. The proposed amendment may therefore be sanctioned by the Resident.

5 Two draft amendments and a draft requisition to Press are submitted.

6 The expression generally used in the Code for European Schools is "local Government"; and I have therefore inserted this in draft I.

7 In the Code for Indian Schools the expression generally used is "the Resident"; but for the sake of uniformity we may stick to "local Government" in draft II also.

May issue.

Regd. No. 8238
File No. 1054/35

Sir,

I have the honour to invite your attention to rule 55(k) of the Grant-in-Aid Code for Indian Schools in the Civil and Military Station, Bangalore, under which, six Collegiate scholarships of the value of Rs.25/- each are tenable in the B.A., or B.Sc., Classes (three in the Junior B.A., or B.Sc. and three in the Senior). No provision is made therein for the tenure of the scholarships in an Honours Course for the B.A., or B.Sc., degree, extending for 3 years, presumably because the scholarships are primarily intended for award in St. Joseph's College, Bangalore, which provides no Honours Course. In 1933-34 G.V. Raju, a Government scholarship holder in the Intermediate Class, joined the Presidency College, Madras, to study for the B.Sc., Honours degree and was granted a Collegiate scholarship of Rs.25/- per mensem. The scholarship was renewed last year in the second year B.Sc. class, and the Principal of the College has this year again recommended him for the continuance of the scholarship in the third and final year of the Course. The six students who held scholarships in the Junior B.A. Classes last year (the 3 scholarships under Article 55 (k) for these classes were divided) must, since they have progressed satisfactorily, be granted a renewal of their scholarships this year, thus completely using up the normal provision for scholarships in the Senior B.A. Classes. But it would not, I think, be fair to the student G.V.Raju, to withdraw his scholarship at this stage. A special provision for this and similar cases is therefore, in my opinion, necessary. I would add that pupils who take the Honours Courses are of more than average ability and are therefore particularly deserving.

2. I therefore request you to be good enough to move the Hon'ble the Hon'ble the Resident to modify the rule by adding under (k) the following note,"Note:- If a scholarship holder under (k) takes the Honours Course, he may be granted a scholarship of the same value for the third year of his course provided that his progress is satisfactory."

3. Since Raju's continuation at College depends upon the renewal of his scholarship, I request that early orders on this matter may kindly be passed. Since the question does not involve a departure from the general principles on which the scholarships are awarded, I presume that no reference to the Government of India is necessary.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

Inspector of Schools,

Coorg and Bangalore.
